

I DO!

JUL -2 1921

©CIL 16723 C

THE STORY IN BRIEF

"I DO."

When a man marries he acquires in-laws. The Boy had a brother-in-law with two children, who were foisted upon auntie and uncle to be cared for over night.

The two most harmless things in the world are a four-year-old boy and a keg of T.N.T. Jackie could get into deviltry while you winked an eye and then, after he had nearly wrecked the house, he'd snuggle into your lap and say, "You love little Jackie, don't you?" And you did-- until you discovered him using your best trousers for a swing!

Teddy, too, though too young to walk, could make life merry. He was hungry, so the Boy held a seance in the kitchen with a bottle, a nipple and some milk, without successful results!

Finally everyone was peacefully slumbering-- except the cat. It created such a disturbance that the Boy thought it was the burglar who had been terrorizing the neighborhood. He tip-toed downstairs where, between the cat, a toy gas balloon with a grotesque face painted on it, and a statue, the Boy had more excitement than in there really had been a burglar there. His fears were only dispelled when the man they thought was the burglar proved to be the night watchman!

This document is from the Library of Congress
“Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection,
1912-1977”

Collections Summary:

The Motion Picture Copyright Descriptions Collection, Class L and Class M, consists of forms, abstracts, plot summaries, dialogue and continuity scripts, press kits, publicity and other material, submitted for the purpose of enabling descriptive cataloging for motion picture photoplays registered with the United States Copyright Office under Class L and Class M from 1912-1977.

Class L Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi020004>

Class M Finding Aid:

<https://hdl.loc.gov/loc.mbrsmi/eadmbrsmi.mi021002>

National Audio-Visual Conservation Center
The Library of Congress